GYMNASIUM

As M.H.S. awaited this year's school session, many changes were taking place—Montevallo was preparing to meet the need for progress.

With September's arrival, seventh and eighth graders found new quarters in the Alice Boyd Building—vacated by the primary grades as they moved to their new building—and even the old "Jeter Building"—once used to house the upper elementary grades had a "new look" as Alabama College's Social Science Building.

SCIENCE LAB

For sports enthusiasts, a new gymnasium with facilities for both girls' and boys' phys. ed. classes as well as interschool events was readied and a much longed for stadium was provided to enhance the athletic department.

The renovation of existing facilities allowing for a "new" science department and an enlarged business education department was also introduced during this streamlining process.

Additions to the curricula and faculty, modification of class periods with a re-vamping of the daily schedule and the disappearance of the activity period, and the introduction of after school clubs and activities were other changes occurring as M.H.S. progressed to meet changing times.

Expanding with the high school was the community. Moves to new quarters and "dressing up" of older establishments were evidenced in the area.

NEW ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

All aspects of school life had to keep pace with these changes in schedule, facilities and curricula.

School clubs which formerly met during the activity period were left with the alternative of meeting after school or disbanding. Many disbanded.

However, the most important school organization, the Student Council, continued to conduct its business in after school meetings and special lunch sessions.

The success of this year's Council was insured by the leadership of a man who has sponsored the Council for many years—a man who has continued to see the need for progress.

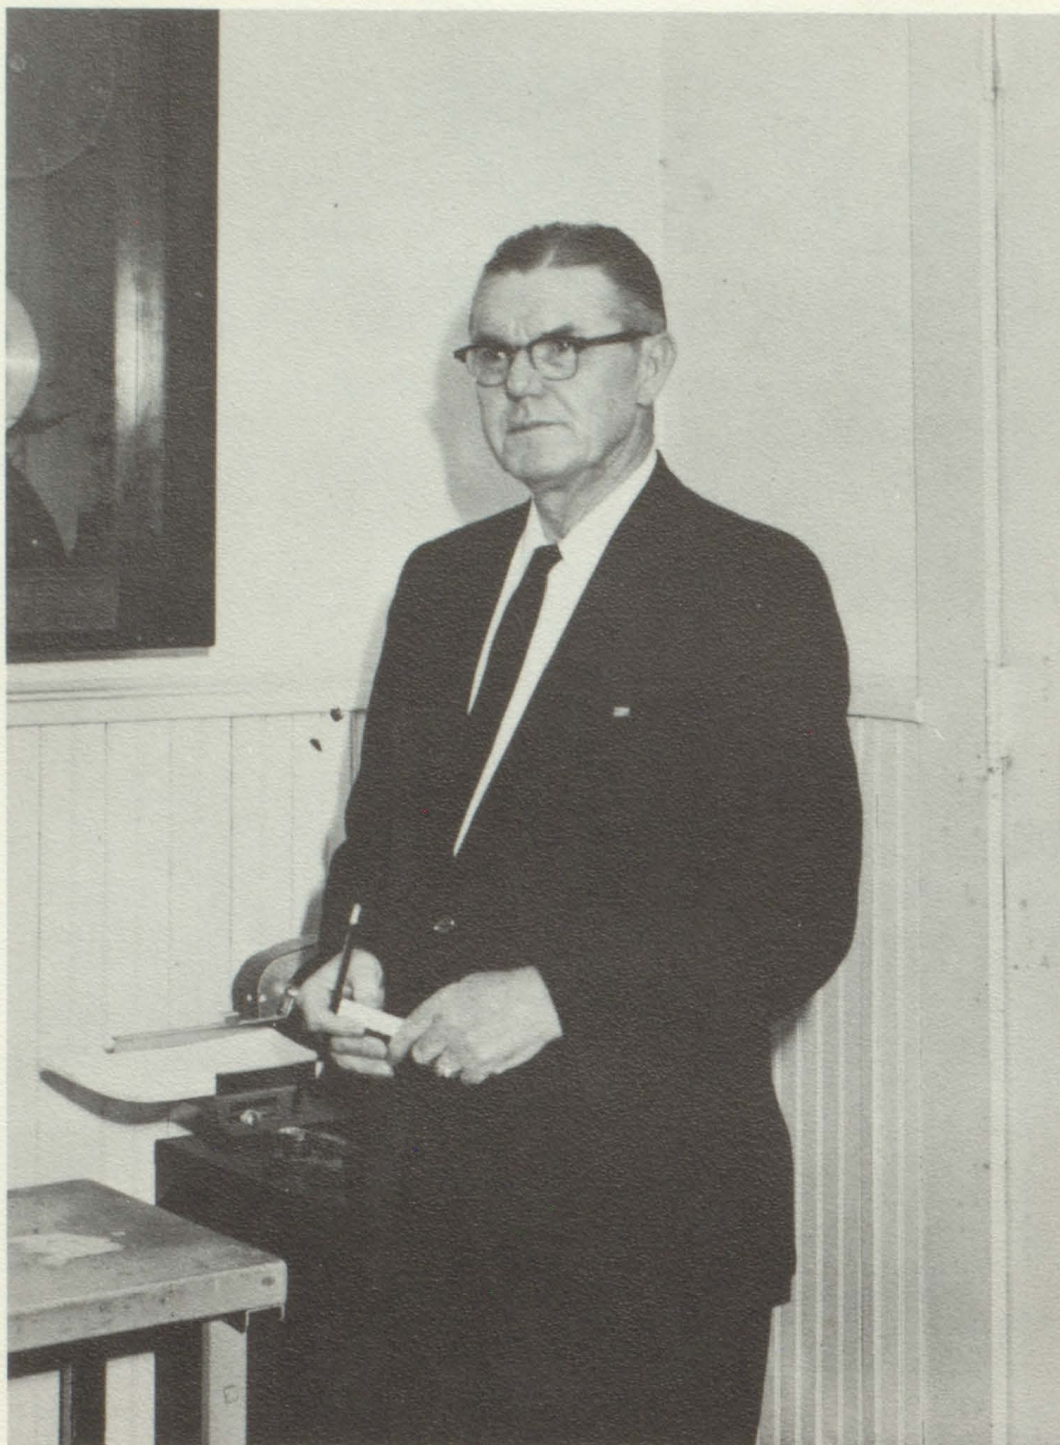

To this man, Mr. B. W. Hamric, we dedicate the 1965 Montana.

ACTIVITIES

HOMECOMING '64

Using the theme "L.S./M.F.T.—Let's Show Montevallo's Finest Tonight", Montevallo once again welcomed alumni and friends to Homecoming festivities at M.H.S.

Beginning the two-day event was the big Thursday night bonfire and pep rally. The Bulldog band led a snake chain from the old ball field to the stadium parking lot where cheerleaders pepped the group into victory cries.

A highlight of the big game is the presentation of the Queen and her court to the football crowd. Shown below, the Homecoming clash between Montevallo and Shelby County is about to get underway.

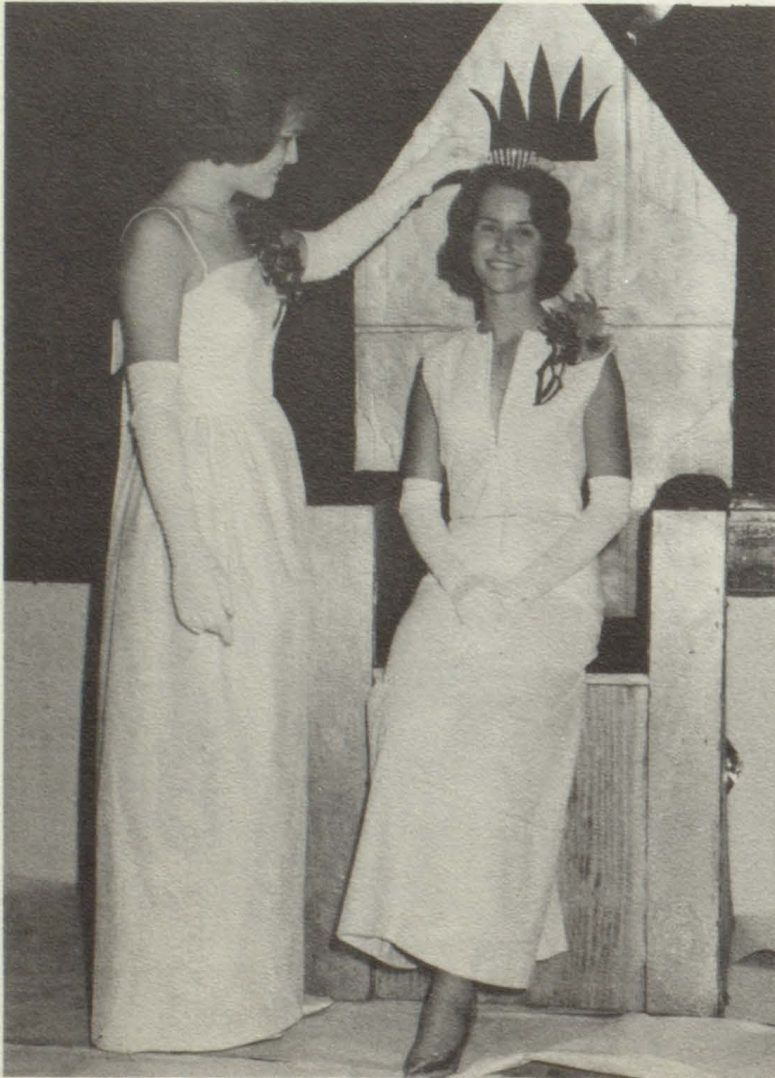

Alumni coffee hour after the game gives graduates a chance to meet and talk with old friends.

Traditional crowning is performed by '63 Queen, Linda Smith.

Queen Suzy gets a bouquet from Student Council President Bill Scott.

QUEEN SUZY REIGNS OVER HOMECOMING DANCE

MISS VALENTINE CONTEST

Reigning as Montevallo's second Queen of Hearts is Miss Lynn Rotenberry—Miss Valentine, 1965. Lynn was selected from a field of eighteen contestants by a panel of six out-of-town judges.

Queen Lynn's four attendants, selected as contest runners-up, are Lemoyne Daviston, Susan Lovelady, Joan Anthony and Nancy Edwards.

The Queen receives her flowers from band director, Mr. Everett Lawler.

Crowning the Queen is Montevallo's first Queen of Hearts—Beth Jeter—Miss Valentine '64.
